

God Can

By: Randy Swift

Who can take a beggar in off the street; give him clean clothes and food to eat
God can, I know God can.

Who can take a heart turned bitter and cold; make it brand new so it shines like gold
God can, I know God can.

God can take away all of your pain; make the sunshine chase the rain.
Yesterday, today and forever the same; all you gotta do is just call his name.

Now who can put the family back together again that let their guard down and the devil crept in; God can, I know God can.

Who can reach down to the trembling hand of a child that's abused and they can't understand; God can, I know God can
