

God Delivers Again

Standing there at the red sea, God's people begin to complain.
Soon Pharaoh and his mighty army will take us to bondage again.
Stand still and see the salvation of the Lord ole' Moses cried.
Then God parted the waters and they crossed to the other side.

God delivers again; My God delivers again
When it seems that all is lost he reaches down his hand.
Then all the forces of evil have to flee at his command
Just when things looked hopeless my God delivers again

We'll never bow to your idols, the Hebrew children proclaimed.
So the king gave the command to throw them into the flames.
The king said did we not cast three men into the furnace bound?
We'll I see four men, they're loose in the fire, unhurt and walking around.
